Lincoln Street Block Party 2024

In August, we had our first Lincoln Street Block Party. Listeners enjoyed reggae tunes from a local duo, Junior John, back by popular demand, and Seattle-based The Highlife Band. Live artwork, a temporary tattoo station, spin art tables, and an appearance by Gilly Man kept the entertainment flowing. By the end of the night everyone was dancing. Looking forward to hosting next year.

Design(ed) by Nature Exhibit

In September, we hosted the first art exhibit by our resident artists. It showcased their collaborative and individual works inspired by the theme Design(ed) by Nature. The three week long exhibit featured local food from Upper Valley Charcuterie and drinks from both Wonderland Wine and Angeles Brewing as well as musical performances from Guy James & Marilyn Kaler, Reckless Dove, and Hermit Mabon. Missed it? See the exhibit for yourself!

Deeply place-based, her work draws inspiration from the movement between inner and outer landscapes, and explores how each mirrors and shapes the other.

Idea Incubator

We fancy ourselves as an idea incubator. To us, that means we are safe space for you to come test out your creativity and see what works in front of a live audience. A big THANK YOU to the musicians who have been testing these past months. Blues Jam Night by Renegade, a Live Jukebox event by Reckless Dove, performance art by Hermit Mabon, and Drums & Dance by Elissa. We also hosted eco-material workshops by 123°W and Cabled Fiber and Yarn. If you want to test music, host an artist workshop, or do something completely different, we are here to support your experiment.

A Message from the Maven of Many Specialities

The Hub is a unique experience, in and of itself. With jumping head first into a whole new experience and city, "humbling" only scratches the surface. Being able to make thought-provoking experiments, work with a fun community, and continuously regenerating objects into fresh new ideas is igniting!

The Hub is here for you to Make.Work.Play - to ignite the fire in Port Angeles. A functional community is not solely dependent on its , but one that can understand and respect the importance of its success. Making an impact can be fun, and having fun can be impactful. The mindset of "better together" is one worth nurturing - I value each and everyone of you and caring for our relationship is worthy work I enjoy doing - I hope you do too!

We take care of our members...

- Free admission to our events
- Access to a creative workspace

Building Community

We encourage creativity, individualism, and PLAY!

We provide new experiences for young artists to learn

We inspire others to become a part of the creative process

We give opportunities for artists to practice and grow
